The Third Sunday after Epiphany

FIRST READING: Nehemiah 8:1-3, 5-6, 8-10

Comment: "Ezra reads the law"

Our first lesson recalls a great day in the history of Israel: in the restored city of Jerusalem Ezra gathers the people together so that they may hear and understand the law of Moses. It would seem that many of the people were unfamiliar with their traditions, and this reading may have taken place at a time when their laws and stories had been newly gathered together and edited. We note the people's reverence for their scriptures, and the manner in which they are not only read but also expounded to them, probably in their own language of Aramaic, since the law was written in Hebrew.

Psalm 19

A hymn which glorifies the Creator God, with special praise for God's law and a prayer for avoidance of sin.

SECOND READING (The Epistle): 1 Corinthians 12:12-31A

Comment: "You are the body of Christ"

In this passage Paul describes Christians as the body of Christ. Each individual is a necessary part of the body. Against any tendencies toward disunity, it must be remembered that all have been baptised into one body and have drunk of one Spirit. Just as there are different organs and limbs of the human body, so individuals have different abilities and ministries. But none can be dispensed with. They are all joined together to care for one another.

THE HOLY GOSPEL: Luke 4:14-21

Comment: "Jesus reads the prophet Isaiah"

In our Gospel story, Jesus returns to Galilee and enters the synagogue in Nazareth. Here he gives what has been called his inaugural sermon. He reads from the book of the prophet Isaiah. These words offer hope and good news to the poor, and tell of healing and freedom for the oppressed. This time, Jesus says, has begun.

HYMN OF FELLOWSHIP

Let there be peace on earth
And let it begin with me
Let there be peace on earth
The peace that was meant to
With God our Creator
Children all are we
Let us walk with each other
In perfect harmony

Let peace begin with me
Let this be the moment now
With every step I take
Let this be my solemn vow
To take each moment
And live each moment
In peace eternally

Let there be peace on earth
And let it begin with me.
