My Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ!

“Spirituality” has been a hot topic on the lips of many people and a variety of ways has been promoted to enable persons to experience their desired goals. Of a particular concern, is the fact that some people argue that there is really no need for religion in that regard. Some people describe themselves “as spiritual, but not religious”.

One would admit that spiritualities differ; however, the absence of particular point of reference could set the stage for individuals to pursue their own spirituality and amount to little more than self-realization, or what has traditionally been described as “spiritual pride”.

When the word is used in the context of the Christian faith, it refers to the search for a meaningful relationship with God, as revealed in Jesus Christ. It involves the pursuit of a “higher power” and how the same connects with human beings. It is a matter of the soul. Quite naturally then, the Church or the practice of religion would be a natural place to begin that search.

In fact, the Anglican Church among other aspects of its life, offers worship as a means whereby members are able experience the presence and power of God, on a regular basis. In the celebration of the Holy Eucharist, with the double feasting on the Word of God and on the Body and Blood of Christ - received in faith, provides suitable opportunity for people to deepen their relationship with God.

Let us, therefore, rid our worship of any clutter which has the potential to smother “the presence of the Holy” and open ourselves for renewal whenever we assemble.

Yours sincerely
Dean Jeffrey

WELCOME AND MAY THE LORD BLESS US ALL

HYMN OF FELLOWSHIP

There's a sweet, sweet Spirit in this place,
and I know that it's the Spirit of the Lord.
There are sweet expressions on each face,
and I know they feel the presence of the Lord.

Refrain:

*Sweet Holy Spirit, sweet Heavenly Dove,
stay right here with us,
filling us with your love.
And for these blessings,
we lift our hearts in praise,
without a doubt we'll know
that we have been revived
when we shall leave this place.*

There are blessings you cannot receive till you know him in his fullness, and believe.
You're the one to profit when you say,
'I am going to walk with Jesus all the way.'

The Fourth Sunday after Pentecost

First Reading: 2 Kings 5:1-14

Comment: "Elisha heals Naaman's leprosy"

Our Hebrew scripture reading is the story of the cure of Naaman from his leprosy. Naaman, commander of the army of Syria, learns there is a prophet in Israel who might bring about his healing. The King of Israel regards the request for help as a trick in a plot to cause a quarrel.

Naaman himself at first refuses to trust in what the prophet Elisha tells him to do, but then he is made clean and knows there is no God on earth except in Israel.

Psalm 30

A hymn of praise and thanksgiving by one whom the Lord has saved from death

Second Lesson: (The Epistle) Galatians 6:7-16

Comment: “Do what is right now”

In our New Testament lesson, Paul concludes his letter to the Galatians with practical advice for life in the community of our church. The principle of “bearing one another’s burdens” applies to those found in transgression, to shared work, to the support of teachers, and to all other aspects of life in the body of Christ. The apostle warns again of the dangers of those who would pervert gospel liberty by the imposition of the law, speaking specifically of those who would require circumcision for Gentile believers. It is the cross of the Lord Jesus Christ alone which is sufficient and the only source of confidence.

The Holy Gospel: Luke 10:1-11, 16-20

Comment: “Jesus sends out seventy disciples”

In the Gospel story, Jesus appoints seventy missionaries to go before him and gives them their instructions. The number recalls the leaders who were once chosen to assist Moses in his work and signifies all the nations of the world. The narrative is meant to refigure the evangelization of every land. The ministry of proclamation and of healing is a matter of urgency and brings judgement of all who fail to receive its messengers. The disciples are representatives of Jesus in a battle with the powers of evil.
