WELCOME AND MAY GOD BLESS US ALL!

The Fifth Sunday after The Epiphany

First Reading: Isaiah 58:1-9a

Comment: "The fast that God chooses"

This passage is a denunciation of the injustices of those who only act at their religion. There is a promise of the Lord's favour for those who genuinely repent and care for the needy. Fasts and many prayers are of no purpose and may be misused if they do not involve the liberation of the oppressed and help for the weak and afflicted. When there is justice and sharing, then the light of the Lord will rise out of darkness and all the ruins will be rebuilt.

Psalms 112:1-9

Blessed are those who are right with the Lord, who are just and generous with those in need.

SECOND READING (The Epistle): 1 Corinthians 2:1-12

Comment "God's wisdom revealed through the Spirit"

In this lection Paul teaches the Corinthians that the wisdom of God is very different from the wisdom in which humans pride themselves. Some of the Corinthians were apparently boasting of their Christianity as though it were powerful in terms of worldly wisdom. They even made fun of Paul for his lack of eloquence. The true power of God is, however, hidden from the ruling forces of the world, for it is discovered in a crucified Lord. This is revealed through God's own Spirit.

THE HOLY GOSPEL: Matthew 5:13-20

Comment: "The teaching of Christ: salt and light"

In the Gospel lesson we learn that disciples are like salt and as light to the world. They are to live even more righteously than the pious scribes and Pharisees. Like a city set on a hill or a lamp on a stand, Jesus' followers must show forth their good works to the glory of God. Jesus has not come to abolish the law and the prophets but to fulfil their purpose. Only those who go beyond the keeping of the law and are wholly committed to God's will can enter the kingdom of heaven.

(Worshippers join hands for the singing of the last refrain)

Let there be peace on earth
And let it begin with me
Let there be peace on earth
The peace that was meant to be
With God our Creator
Children all are we
Let us walk with each other
In perfect harmony

Let peace begin with me
Let this be the moment now
With every step I take
Let this be my solemn vow
To take each moment
And live each moment
In peace and eternally
Let there be peace on earth
And let it begin with me.
